Notice to Guarantors

If the person for whom you are guaranteeing this loan does not pay the Credit Union, you will be legally liable and fully responsible for paying the debt even though you are not receiving any part of the loan proceeds. You may be asked to pay the loan even though there may be property pledged as collateral for the loan. The Credit Union may begin legal action against you to collect any unpaid indebtedness if you refuse payment.

If there is more than one guarantor, the Credit Union can sue you alone. It is not required to sue any of the other guarantors. Nothing shall discharge or satisfy your obligation under this guaranty except full payment of the indebtedness, including accrued interest.

This does not create your legal liability. It only explains your responsibilities when you act as a guarantor.

You represent that everything you have stated in this application is correct to the best of your knowledge. You authorize the credit union to obtain credit reports in connection with this application for credit and for any update, renewal or extension of the credit received. If you request, the credit union will tell you the name and address of any credit bureau from which it received a credit report on you. You understand that it is a federal crime to willfully and deliberately provide incomplete or incorrect information on a loan application made to a Federal Credit Union insured by the NCUA.
